THE SITUATION

How the Matter of Nomination for Governor Stood Last Night.

The following from the Springfield News told the story for Monday:

"The Republican convention begins another week of work at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It is almost safe to say that it reconvenes after its Sunday rest with no change in the situation.

"Immediately on adjournment Saturday night at 8 o'clock the delegates began to prepare for Sunday. Several trains were run to Chicago over the three roads. Those living in this section of the state were successful in getting away, but the majority of the delegates spent Sunday in Springfield.

"With the arrival Sunday morning of some 2,500 German Catholics to attend their federation, Springfield was filled to the guards and the hotels and eating houses were taxed to their full capacity.

"It was a strange mixture of interest and excitement in this city Sunday. An immense revival was inaugurated last Wednesday evening by all the Protestant churches. The Republican convention has occupied the minds and thoughts of most of the people and the city Sunday was agog with interest in the deadlocked convention.

"Now come the German Catholics to hold their state convention.

"The beautiful weather draws the entire city and all its guests to the streets. There was no concealment of the wide open town. Every saloon door stood invitingly open. Some dozen hands paraded the streets. The hotel lobbies were filled with working politicians and the churches were crowded with those interested in the revival. Sunday you could get anything you could hear anything you wanted.

"Though it was Sunday and many of the delegates were away from the city political work did not cease. All the leaders were here. Deneen appeared at breakfast first and was closely followed by Lowden. Yates rested part of the time. In the morning he drove with his wife and two friends about the city and later went to church, and in the evening visited his mother in Jacksonville. It was a day of complete rest compared with the six which had just preceded it. Sherman and Hamilton and Warner were early at work among the delegates in the hotels.

"There is no question that the Yates men have lost their eyes. Hope of breaking into their ranks has been given up by other candidates.

"The break to nominate the governor is no longer expected to come from the Yates column. Where it is coming from and when, are still as much matters of speculation as they have been for a week. On the surface at least there is no indication that any of the other candidates intend to start it. There are a few counties which are not tied up with any special interest and they bob around from one to another, but their votes are few. As a result of a concerted movement among them there was a miniature stampede for Hamilton late Saturday evening, resulting in a net gain of thirty-nine votes for him. But the next and the last ballot of the day showed a return to the same old condition.

"Those counties in which tsen' any?"

"Those counties in which it was presumed the break in the Yates forces would come have stuck as tight as the rest. Kankakee with Len Small for treasurer, Fulton with Chipperfield for attorney general and Kane, the home of Hopkins, whose preference, it is not doubted, is Lowden, stick to Yates without flinching. Vermilion, the home of Cannon, defies the power of the speaker to change it from Hamilton.

"Talk of new Richmonds is heard. Walter Reeves has been suggested as a compromise. Some of the Will county delegates, acting in the interests of the congressional and senatorial pool, have been trying to win Warden E. J. Murphy from Yates by offering him a chance in the game, but Murphy stands by the governor and holds Will county to him so tight that Congressman Snapp cannot shake it loose. Eifer is also mentioned as a dark horse. Graeme Stewart and Judge Grossepup are also mentioned.

"James S. Neville, of Bloomington, has been the target for offers in return for his delegation. Deneen men offer him the attorney generalship and other things. He could probably buy Cullom's seat with the McLean delegation. An intimation reached him that he could retain his present position if he would deliver to Warner, but to all of them he has returned the word: 'Tell your man I am for the governor. My financial interests do not depend upon a state job and my political future I am not worrying about.'

"Similar offers are made to other men of influence at the heads of delegations. Offers are made by all candidates to the friends of other candidates, but so far they have made absolutely no impression on any of the lines."

"The situation is unique and will probably never have its like in Illinois politics. Neither Yates, Lowden or Deneen can be nominated unless by consent of one of the other two. A coalition of the Yates and Lowden men seems impossible. Lowden and the Cook county machinery, of which he is head and shoulder, do not want Yates. If they go to Yates they would not be enough to nominate him unless they could carry all of Lowden's strength in the county, and this they cannot do. Again, as soon as they would make that move Deneen would counter by going to Hamilton or Sherman, and carrying with them, no one can say how many from other camps. Deneen fears to go to Yates. His men believe their county ticket would be in danger if Yates was at the head of the state ticket. The Chicago newspapers which have been fighting Yates and which Yates has been fighting back, are Deneen newspapers and they keep the Deneen forces from surrendering to the governor. On the other hand, the former papers, the Inter Ocean and Chronicle, hold a club over many of the Deneen delegates. Yates will not go to Deneen and bow down to the Chicago trust press, as he calls it. The newspaper fight is not the least interesting feature in this contest. The Yates men this morning believe, however, that the Record Herald and Tribune are weakening and will finally consent to the nomination of Yates by Deneen votes. This is the delegation from which Yates expects to get a sufficiency of votes. Lowden cannot be nominated without Yates votes, but as soon as Yates votes begin to go to Lowden Deneen votes will go to Yates. Deneen men are positive they will never permit the nomination of Lowden."

"The convention will perform its business this week under entirely different conditions and atmospheres. It has ceased to be a curiosity and the public is losing interest. The cost of maintaining them has cost most of the candidates to discharge their hands, rosters and shouters and to send them home. There is no possibility of stampeding the convention. The galleries Saturday afternoon and evening, left free to themselves and influenced by the carefully located dele-

THE PERPETUAL WAR

There is always a fight going on in every human body between health and disease. On one side are poor food, bad air, over-work, worry, colds, accidents. On the other are sunshine, rest, cheerfulness and nourishment.

The reason Scott's Emulsion fights so powerfully for health is because it gives so much more nourishment than you can get in any other way. Get in the sunlight and try Scott's Emulsion.

gations of hunters, showed no enthusiasm whatever and did not join in any of the demonstrations.

"Many delegations will be only half filled. The majority of them will leave several men on guard and the rest will be at home attending to their business. A rule of the convention permits this. Alternates will not return. The hall will be plenty large enough and it is thought order will prevail and business will be rushed through without those spectacular demonstrations and riots which marked Thursday night, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon."

"The break when it comes will come suddenly and the fight will be over in five minutes. But from this position and hour there is absolutely nothing on which to base a speculation or prediction when that break will come or who will profit by it. The convention may nominate a governor within twenty-four hours. It may be in session for a week, two weeks or a month, or indefinitely."

DEADLOCK WITHOUT PRECEDENT.

"I have attended congressional, state and national conventions since 1854, and do not remember of any that equaled this one in respect to the stubborn and loyal support given by the delegates to their favorite candidates," said Colonel Benjamin Shaw, of Dixon, to day. Colonel Shaw says of himself that he is "seventy, odd years old," and his memory for events of the last half century proves the truth of the statement.

"In the old days nominations in gubernatorial conventions in Illinois were made with speed, and with many severe brushes," continued Colonel Shaw. "The Republicans of Lincoln's day and for many years afterward sought diligently for a leader who would be certain to carry their standard to victory, and they made no mistakes. Hence the convention was more of a formality than it is to day."

"In the early eighties we had a convention that was noteworthy for acrimony. The fight was over the selection of delegates to the national convention. General Grant was running for a third term and Blaine was a candidate against him. Two sets of delegates were submitted to the convention and it is a matter of history that the Grant delegation was admitted. I may add that Illinois did not cast its vote for Grant, as there was a contest on seating the delegates and representatives sent by the congressional districts were given the credentials."

"Senator Cullom was governor then, and he told me to day that while the convention was in progress a New York Herald reporter rushed into his office and begged to be allowed to telephone to the telegraph office a bulletin to his paper, saying: 'The Illinois gubernatorial convention was struggling over the Grant and Blaine delegate issue; is about to break up in a hot fight.'"

"Governor Cullom requested the New York Herald man to hold the message and this was done, the convention eventually reaching a decision, although not a generally satisfactory one."

TAKING DESPERATE CHANCES

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by all leading druggists.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 21, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

Quality-Cheapness

When a customer has once been educated to quality, he will seldom seek a store that appeals merely to the desire to save pennies. There are communities where quality arguments would have no weight, but many more could be educated toward quality if the right arguments were used. Quality arguments are sometimes slow trade builders, but they build exceeding strong—bargain goods are only a bargain to those who cannot afford the best, but there is generally a hole in the bargain. If you want simply butter, pay the commission man or jobber's price and get it. If you want absolute purity and perfect flavor, the kind that brings customers back for more, pay more and get more. Quality has been behind every business that has built up a solid reputation.

FOOLISH STORIES.

Following are some of the stories going the rounds at Springfield.

Among the things you may hear are these:

That Deuce and Yates are on the verge of reaching an agreement.

That Deuce asked Yates for his votes to make him governor, in return for which Yates should have the support of Governor Deuce two years hence for senator, and in the meantime Yates should dole out all the patronage in the state at large.

That Yates is willing to agree to make Deuce sole proprietor of the Cook county patronage in return for enough votes to renominate him for governor.

That Deuce is waiting to get permission from the "trust press" to accept the proposal.

That Deuce considered this proposition, but made the proviso that Yates should not under any circumstances interfere with the re-election of Senator Cullom two years hence, and that Charles Andrews should be state treasurer and that no candidate for office tainted with Lorimerism should ever receive any support during Governor Yates' second term.

That the governor balked on the treasurership. He thinks that it is his duty to stand by Small who has sacrificed himself for the executive.

That Lowden and Hamlin have reached an agreement, whereby Hamlin is to be made governor.

That the indication of growing warmth between Deuce and Yates caused the Lowden and Lorimer men to get uneasy and the result was a proposition to make Hamlin governor.

That the Lowden men before agreeing to the coalition on Hamlin submitted the matter to Yates with the thought in mind to cause him to make concessions for the sake of keeping all the pie inside the ranks of the so-called organization.

That Lorimer is about to shift from Lowden to some one else.

It seems that the smaller the crowd and the more sane its condition the stronger and greater becomes the doubt and the bunk.

There is no diminution of fakes and ridiculous ideas and propositions. It appears, in fact, that the more insane and ridiculous the proposition is the more readily it circulates and is credited.

Among the stories in circulation yesterday was that it is alleged that Yates and Northcott, the original authors of your young man's "L. E. A. A." According to the various reports, Yates and Northcott are supposed to have been in the city of Springfield, Mo., for the purpose of making arrangements for the world's fair.

nominated. Whereupon Yates is quoted as replying with indignation, "I want no quitters in my confidence. I want no more of you in my conferences." Absolute confirmation of the story is lacking. Owing to its very serious character, the term "it is alleged" is used advisedly and it is hoped that no one will believe it until it is fully substantiated.

HATCH'S SUCCESS.

Hatch, the enterprising druggist, rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co. to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular bottle at 25c.

The wonderful success of this plan was a great surprise even to Hatch and to day there are scores of people here in the city who are using and praising this remarkable remedy.

So much talk has been caused by this offer, and so many new friends have been made for the specific, that the Dr. Howard Co. have authorized Druggist Hatch to continue this special half-price sale for a limited time longer.

In addition to selling 60 doses of Dr. Howard's specific for 25c, Hatch has so much faith in the remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches, your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally, when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feeling, giddiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heartburn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy, and liver troubles, Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not it will refund you a cent.

SPRINGFIELD SUICIDE.

Levi Harmon, of Atlanta, committed suicide in Springfield Sunday morning about 11 o'clock, just across the street from St. Paul's pro-cathedral, during the repatriation of the Lord's prayer at the church celebration. The deed was done in full view of Rev. Frederick A. DeRosset and Bishop George F. Seymour, who were conducting the services. The weapon used was a 38 calibre revolver, which was discharged in the direction of the heart, the bullet severing the aorta.

Mr. Harmon was a member of Pearl lodge, No. 103, I. O. M. A. No cause other than despondency can be assigned for the suicide. The remains were taken in charge by W. H. Harmon, a brother of the deceased, from Atlanta.

The deed was witnessed by several Jacksonville people, who were visiting in Springfield Sunday.

GAVE A BALL.

The members of the Court of Honor lodge gave a most enjoyable ball at Odeon hall Monday evening, which was largely attended and proved a most successful event. Dancing furnished for the most part the amusement for the evening and excellent music was rendered by Devlin's orchestra. The floor managers were Arthur Seegar and B. C. Marrs, who kept matters going at a lively rate.

The flower committee had charge of the arrangements and consisted of Mrs. C. C. Williamson, Mrs. Fred Schoppe and Miss Margaret Monihan. They were assisted by Mrs. T. Keating, Mrs. B. C. Marrs and Mrs. J. W. Woods.

Ice cream and cake were served as refreshments and this was in charge of Mrs. Geo. Eads, Miss Agnes Murray and Mrs. Gieseler.

NEW DAILY TRAIN.

The C. B. & Q. road has put on a St. Louis morning local daily train from Bond, Mo., and it will prove a great convenience for people along the line. The train will leave Bond at 7 a. m. during the world's fair.

A BEAUTIFUL CHURCH.

Rev. J. J. McCabe, so well known to many here, is pastor of the Raper M. E. church in Dayton, Ohio, and that society has recently dedicated a new house of worship. The Journal is under obligations to Mrs. W. A. Oliver for a copy of the Dayton Herald containing an elaborate account of the services which extended over several days, and in which many noted persons participated. The church is of buff pressed brick, with buff Bedford stone for trimming. It cost $40,000, occupies a lot 80x122 and covers it all. To the top of the tower is about 100 feet; the seating is semi-circular, facing the organ and rostrum; the auditorium and two transepts are finished in quartered oak and the rest is pine. There are two handsome stained glass windows; the Sunday school room will seat about 700 and is separated from the auditorium by a rising partition; two balconies make the seating capacity about 1,200; the primary room is separated from the main part by folding doors; in the basement are arrangements for the social work of the church, and taken as a whole the structure is well nigh ideal. The money has largely been raised by Mr. McCabe, of whom the Herald speaks very highly.

JUSTICE COURTS.

In Squire Reid's court George Sairley, William Connolly and Chas. Seegar were each taxed $3 and costs for an ordinary drunk.

In the same court Marian Moore, the hot female man, was called up for enticing from her home Susie Wallace, a virtuous young woman. It is alleged that Moore left his wife and babe but a few days old in destitute circumstances. This is the report of the neighbors and is not vouched for by the Journal. Moore waived examination and went to jail in default of $200 bonds, but will probably be brought before the grand jury during its present session.

THE MATRIMONIAL RECORD

ROBINSON-HOLLAND.

Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Miss Lucy Holland, of this city, and William C. Robinson, of Nashville, Tenn., were united in marriage at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. R. E. Pelham, of East North street, with whom she has made her home for the past five years.

Rev. R. F. Thrapp performed the charming ring service in his usual gracious manner before a few intimate friends and immediate relatives.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a delightful creation of white silk and mohair. She carried bride's roses and looked very charming indeed. The groom wore the customary suit of black.

They were attended by Frank Corcoran and Miss Mabelle Pelham, a cousin of the bride, who carried white carnations.

A pleasing effect was obtained by the use of rose colored gas lights.

The bride is a well known young lady, whose charming personality and winning ways have won her many friends. The groom is highly esteemed by all who know him and holds a very responsible position in the electrical department at the Louisiana purchase exposition, where he has had charge of all construction work since January. At present he has charge of the electrical machinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson departed on the 1:05 Chicago & Alton train amid a shower of rice and good wishes.

At present they will reside in St. Louis, where they will begin house-keeping at once.

These two young people begin their married life under very promising conditions and it is the wish of every one that good will and happiness may fill their cup to overflowing. They were the recipients of a number of very beautiful and useful presents, which shows the high esteem in which they are held.

HACKETT-BROWN.

Quincy Herald: A courtship that began in Quincy two years ago was consummated to day in a wedding at Keokuk. The bride was Miss Katie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brown, of 601 Adams street, a well known and popular south side girl. The groom was Tommy Hackett, the base ball player, who is a member of the Keokuk club this season.

The marriage ceremony was performed this morning, the nuptials being solemnized with mass at a Catholic church. The bride went to Keokuk yesterday, taking the morning train, and witnessed the base ball game in the afternoon.

Tommy Hackett is a Jacksonville product, a brother of Jimmy Hackett, the National league pitcher, who played his first league game in this city. Tommy's first appearance here was with a Jacksonville semi-professional club. Later he was signed as catcher by Harry Hofer and played two seasons as a member of the Reserves. He became a favorite with the fans, as he always played his best, and could generally be depended on for a hit when one was needed. He worked at odd times as a street car conductor and motorman.

Mrs. Hackett, the bride of to day, was born and reared in Quincy. She has been employed for the past several years as a seamstress at the Noxall garment factory.

Miss Lee Brown and Joseph Kroener, both of Quincy, acted as bridesmaid and groomsmen respectively at the wedding. The former is a sister of the bride.

ORATORY CONTEST

Seniors of Illinois College Speak for Prize at the Jones Building Monday Evening.

The senior oratorical contest of Illinois college was held in the college chapel Monday evening in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience. The five speakers showed exceptional talent and ability. Arthur Frederick Ewert was unanimously awarded first place. The judges were Rev. R. F. Thrapp, Prof. J. R. Hopkins and F. E. Baldwin. President C. W. Barnes opened the exercises with an earnest prayer. Prof. C. L. Willis presided and introduced Miss Grace E. Dudley, who favored the audience with an artistic vocal solo. Lawrence Newton Wylder was the first speaker and had for his subject, "The Undoing of Reconstruction." He said: "The subject of the negro population of the south needs to be considered gravely. The negro received his emancipation too soon. One of the effects of emancipation of the negro was the loss of the reverence of the white race for the supremacy of the white race. We see that negro suffrage has failed. The privilege of voting should be granted as a reward of intelligence. We do not advocate taking away rights of the negro, but to limit them." The gentleman's effort showed clear thought and was well given.

The next speaker on the program was E. P. Brockhouse, who had the subject, "Direct Legislation as a Cure for Corruption." He said: "All government is as old as the human race itself. Opposed to the doctrine of the divine right of kings is the constitutional government. Within later years a dark cloud has appeared on our horizon. The governments of some of our states is abhorrent to civilization. As a cure for these conditions the principal of the town meeting has been put forward. By giving the people a veto power over reckless measures, as in the initiative and referendum, a better government may be secured. Direct legislation is impracticable in state affairs, but can be of great benefit in cities. Its initiative referendum reformers can attack evils one at a time and thereby gradually remove the evils. May the time come when each man shall do his duty." Mr. Brockhouse had an excellent oration and it was well delivered.

Charles Morley Eames followed with an oration on "The Defeat of Mayor Law." He said: "New York under Low had a pure government, no graft and no filth on the streets. Despite this the people closed their eyes on the facts and allowed evil forces to regain power. Tammany appealed to party politics and ignored local issues. In all cities good issues have been downed by appeals to party politics. The maladjustment of machine government is partisanship and the machine is responsible to the party votes. Party politics have no place in city affairs, and in city affairs voters should consider only the things which tend for better government."

"The Problem of Organized Labor" was then given by Arthur F. Ewert. "Labor throughout history has given to civilization all its mighty improvements. It possesses higher dignity and power than ever before. It presents a problem fraught with peril. During the last year it has organized itself and resisted all the encroachments of capital. Thousands of strikes have taken place with immense loss of life and property. Organized labor has tried to give life, liberty and pursuit of happiness only to those who wear their badges. We do not denounce the power labor has gained in the past year, but it should be guarded. It has allied itself against the militia, the bulwark of American liberties. Not only is it an attack upon our government, but the beginning of anarchy. We are proud of the civilization raised by labor. There is a power in the organization of capital and the organization of labor that may plunge the country in civil war and all its attendant terrors. There is an almighty power in organization which makes all in a union of brothers." Mr. Ewert won the admiration of all present for the mastery manner in which he handled his subject.

The last speaker was Melville T. Kennedy. His subject was, "The Bible and the Public Schools." "Religion and government have always held first place in people's hearts. The Bible has steadily lost ground in public schools. To all intents and purposes the reading of the Bible has been shut out of the schools. Gymnasiums have been erected for physical needs. The hand has been trained, but the great book has been neglected. The Christian religion is recognized in our government. Without morality no state can survive. The education of the people, especially in a democracy, is vital. Good citizenship is of paramount importance. Immorality destroys the home, the foundation of state and good citizenship. The cultivation of morality cannot be obtained without study. Because religion and morality are necessary the state should keep the Bible in the schools." Mr. Kennedy had a splendid stage appearance and delivered his speech with force.

While the judges were conferring the audience listened to a solo by Miss Grace Dudley, rendered in faultless style, which was heartily applauded. She kindly consented to an encore, entitled "She Seidom Smiles."

EXCITED THE INDIANS.

Movie Pictures in Which Men Who Were Dead Were Shown.

Burton Holmes, the lecturer, visited the home of the Mokli Indians in Arizona to witness the weird snake dance which those savages have practiced at intervals for centuries. While near the home of the Mokli he set up his moving picture machine and made a film showing Apache Indians and cowboys in horse races and in feats of daring while on horseback.

The film was developed and proved to be excellent. A year later Mr.
Holmes visited the same region again and one night gave an exhibition for the benefit of the natives.

The Indians observed the pictures which Mr. Holmes threw on the screen, which was stretched on the side of a store building, with stability and made no comment until the moving picture machine was started and the film made in the neighborhood a year before was thrown on the screen.

"Then there was almost a riot," said
Mr. Holmes in telling of the affair.
"Several of the Indians who had taken part in the races the year before had died, and when they were shown on the screen, riding for dear life, their friends were amazed. The dead had been brought to life. It was astonishing."

"The Indians gazed at the picture, then looked at each other as if uncertain that they saw what they saw.
Then they began talking excitedly, pointing at the moving images of those who were dead. It did not strike the savage mind as unusual that live men should appear on the screen and seem to be moving, but with dead men it was different."

"When the film had all gone through the machine the Indians hastened forward to examine the white cloth on which the pictures had been shown.
They fingered it nervously, raised it to look behind it, held it up to look through it in a vain endeavor to find the solution to what was to them a mystery. They paid no attention at all to the machine that had projected the picture. All of the magic to them was in the cloth."

Patented a Hole.
"What do you think of patenting a hole," said a New York man, "and making thousands and probably hundreds of thousands of dollars on it?
Simply a hole, and that's all. That is what was done by the manufacturers of a certain style of toothbrush which has a wide sale. The hole was drilled in the handle of the brush near the end, and with each brush was given a little book, with instructions to hang the brush on the hook by use of the hole. The thing was widely advertised, with the result that millions of brushes were sold at prices much higher than others just as good. The patented hole and the advertising did the trick. The patent expired a few months ago, however, and now any manufacturer of toothbrushes can sell holes with his goods."—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

"Black Tooth" Italians.
The "blue gum" negro is a fact. I do not know if his bite is poisonous, as some believe, but people in the cotton belt fight shy of him. The other day for the first time I saw a "black tooth" Italian. An immigrant runner tells me there are many such Italians in New York. "Black tooth," it is explained,
are not a disease, but a disfigurement.
The blackness does not necessarily cause decay. Most of the "black tooth" folk come from the volcanic region about Naples, and the blackness is due to some gaseous constituent of drinking water, the teeth being affected in early youth and remaining so till death.

Nurse Told to Spank Baby Hourly.
"Spank this baby once every hour until she cries." These unusual directions were given at the City hospital, with hopes of working a cure in the case of a baby sent to the institution
from a private hospital in Clark street.
The baby was four months old and was deficient in lung development owing to its disinclination to cry. Whether or not there was any efficiency in the treatment could not be determined, for the babe died after being in the hospital one day.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Japanese Soldier.
The Japanese soldier has muscles like whiplcord, is a sure shot, has an eye for landmarks and a memory for locality. He can do with three hours' sleep out of the twenty-four, is cleanly, attends to sanitary instructions, is ardently patriotic, holds his life cheap and runs up hills like a goat. He costs the state about 4 1/2 a day and thinks himself well off. London Truth.

At Bedtime in Japan.
Getting ready for bed in Japanese a homes is a quick process. When the time for sleep arrives quilts are brought out and laid upon the floor, and within five minutes all is ready for the night. Resting their heads upon the block of wood upholstered with a hard roll of flannel, which constitutes the Japanese pillow, they sleep
the sleep of the contented.

Scrawny Girls

*With Hollow Checks and Sallow Complexions
May Again Be Plump and Rosy*

Many girls have grown old and homely with the best part of life still before them.

Something has gone wrong with the seat of life—the stomach.
Foods do not digest and consequently there is no new blood. The body becomes a furnace without fuel. It begins to eat itself. The tissues, the muscles, the strength built up in the past, now go to support life. The once beautiful and healthy girl becomes emaciated, angular, hollow checked and stoop shouldered. Her complexion is yellow and wrinkled. She is a sordid old woman.

Dyspepsia does all this.
This terrible disease was always difficult to overcome, but we have at last found a positive and permanent cure—Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets.
Our new remedy supplies the one element, the lack of which in the gastric juices is the sole cause of dyspepsia. It stimulates the digestive organs to perfect action and enables them to extract the last particle of blood and health and strength from the food eaten.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will tone up your system, quiet your nerves, make you sleep sound, show you the bright side of life, clear your complexion and give you the firm, plump, flesh nature intended you to have.
We give you back your money if they fail to cure you.

Price 25 cents. Sold only at our store or by mail.

THE COOKBOOK.

A cucumber sliced into tomato soup
while boiling will add a delicious flavor. It should be skinned out just before serving.

Except where otherwise specified, a coffee cup is the usual size intended in recipes. Measure everything in the same sized cup.

To give a pie a beautiful brown, flaky appearance spread about one and a half tablespoonsful of sweet milk or cream over the top just before baking.

Celery leaves may be dried to a crisp,
rubbed through a fine sieve and used for flavoring soups. If kept in a dry place they will retain their flavor for a long time.

A good general rule always to remember in the use of gelatin is to soften the gelatin in cold water, then to dissolve in boiling water. Neglect of either part of the process will cause trouble in the use of gelatin.

COMING AND GOING.

Lord Fuchas had with ease obtained
Miss Osterbilt's consent,
And so next day, although it rained,
To see her he went.
The poor, with reveries of "dough"
And the impending bliss
He'd have in spending it, you know,

With manner sternly grim;

Were good enough for him.

aminer.

Self Evident.
"The trouble with our people," exclaimed the popular orator, "is that they too often confuse license with liberty."

"I don't know about other kinds of license," interrupted a thoughtful looking man from the audience, "but I can state emphatically that there is no confusion possible between a marriage license and liberty."

There were approving murmurs clear back to the rear of the hall.—New Or-

Making a Wild Guess.
"On the one hand," said the teacher
at the night school, pointing a long finger at the map on the blackboard,
"in the present complication is Russia.
On the other hand?"

Here he paused and looked sternly at the shock headed boy. "On the other hand?"

"Warts?" hazarded the shock headed boy, helpless with terror.—Chicago Tribune.

An Observation.
"It is more blessed to give than to receive," said the benevolent man.

"Mother and the girls will be glad to know that," answered Mr. Cumrox.
They found out early in the campaign that it is a heap easier to give parishes than it is to receive invitations.—Washington Star.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the roots and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mennett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair in a few days, and in six weeks he had a normal supply of hair. Sold by leading druggists.

Your health is your greatest blessing. Guard
it as your life. Find out the truth about yourself, whether you are sick or well. Learn how to get well and keep well—and how to get well should you become ill. Your health is the result of your failure to obey nature's laws. How can you obey these laws unless you know what they are? Do you suffer from headache? Is your appetite poor?
Do you lay awake at night? Are you nervous and irritable? Then you are on the downward road to poor health. Get on the upward road. Dr. McLean's Book tells you how to regain lost health or to retain the health you have.

Dr. J. R. McLean has prepared many remedies to help those who suffer. One of them is

McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm

This remedy reaches the organs that are most susceptible to disease, the organs that must be kept in good working condition to secure good health for you. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm puts these organs in good order and keeps them so.
It makes them throw off disease-causing poisons which are the cause of all the troubles that we are at. At all druggists, or by mail to

BURGARS ABROAD.

Burgars entered the residence of Dr. A. B. Morey Sunday night about 9:30 o'clock, but were sent away before anything was taken. They effected an entrance by breaking the lock on the kitchen door. Once inside the kitchen they ransacked the pantry and turned things upside down generally.

Dr. Morey was attracted by the noise and went to the kitchen to make inquiry, but before he got there the burgars had escaped. The police were at once notified, but no clue has been hit upon thus far. Nothing of value was taken.

FUNERALS.

SCOTT.

Funeral services of Mrs. Minerva Scott were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence on West State street. A large number of relatives and friends, who had known and loved Mrs. Scott in life, gathered to pay a last tribute of respect to the dead.

The solemn and impressive services were in charge of Dr. W. F. Short, assisted by Rev. A. B. Morey, who, in comforting and hopeful words, endeavored to rob death of some of its sorrows. A choir, consisting of Mrs. E. E. Crabtree, Mrs. R. M. Hockenbush, Oliver Mason and John L. Johnson, sang several hymns appropriate to the occasion.

The chamber of death was filled with beautiful floral emblems, sent by friends in a conscious desire to conceal the realities of the visit of the grim messenger, who calls upon the high and the low; the loved and the unloved alike. They were cared for by Mrs. E. C. Lambert, Mrs. T. J. Pitzer, Mrs. Edward McDonald and Mrs. John Russell.

The services at the home being concluded, the remains were taken to Diamond Grove cemetery and were there laid to rest, the bearers being Stephen James, Samuel Howard and William Dunlap and S. O. Barr.

The services attended the services in a body.

A BEAUTIFUL TRIP.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation company, which manages a line from Niagara to the sea. The route is down the famous St. Lawrence river, of which a description is impracticable in a brief article. Every person at all conversant with the attractions of this country has heard of the famous Thousand Islands, among which steamers pass in going to the sea, while all along the scenery is well high unsurpassed. The cities by the way and the many things to be seen at the famous old towns of the land to the north of us make a trip in this direction something to be remembered always. Full information may be had of Thomas Henry, traffic manager, Montreal, Canada, or of any railroad agent nearer by.

GRANTED DIVORCE.

In the circuit court Monday Mrs. Blanche M. Barnes was granted an absolute divorce from her husband, Henry G. Barnes, and was given the custody of their two children. Desertion and neglect was the ground alleged in the bill. The defendant will be remembered by many here, where he was formerly employed as instructor in printing at the State School for the Deaf, from 1892 to 1896, and where later he conducted a printing office with his brother on South Sandy street.

ILLIG.

G. A. Hillig, of Meredosia, passed away about noon Monday, after an illness of several years with consumption.

Mr. Hillig was born in Meredosia thirty-two years ago and was a man highly respected by all who knew him.

He attended school at Bushnell, Ill., as a young man, and later graduated from the St. Louis law school. He located in this city for the practice of his profession in 1898 and had an office in the Scott block. He was a candidate for state's attorney before the Democratic convention in 1900. Soon afterward his health began to fail and he went to Colorado. He returned from the west about two years ago and has since resided at the home of his father, County Commissioner F. A. Hillig, of Meredosia.

He was married in 1899 to Miss Louise Banjan, of Meredosia, who survives him. He is also survived by his parents, one brother, Lawrence, of Meredosia, and four sisters, Mrs. Clara Fricke, of Meredosia; Mrs. Mary Hammond and Miss Mildred Hillig, of this city, and Miss Hattie Hillig, of Meredosia.

Mr. Hillig was a man of genial disposition and made many friends by his kind manner.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Meredosia and will be in charge of the Masons.

Miss Mildred Hillig and Mrs. Mary Hammond left Monday night to attend the funeral.

LOLLIS.

D. H. Lollis, of Meredosia, one of the most highly respected residents of Morgan county, entered into rest Monday morning at 5 o'clock, after a week's illness with pneumonia.

Mr. Lollis was born in the state of Virginia, April 4, 1836, and removed with his parents to Indiana when but 8 years of age. Here he remained until 1863, when he came to Illinois and located at Meredosia.

March 23, 1866, he was married to Martha J. Overbeck, of Meredosia, who survives him. For six years Mr. Lollis was the agent of Wallace Parker, the grain merchant. Later he entered the lumber business and was associated with J. E. Banjan, where he remained until seventeen years ago, when he was made cashier of the Farmers' and Trades' bank of Meredosia. He discharged the responsible duties of this confidential relation with unflinching fidelity and was a man trusted and honored by a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Lollis was an active Republican and took a keen interest in all that pertained to the welfare of the party. He served the county as commissioner for one term and a more faithful public official Morgan county never had.

He was a member of the Meredosia Masonic lodge and the funeral will be in charge of that fraternity.

One son, J. H. Lollis, died July 25, 1884.

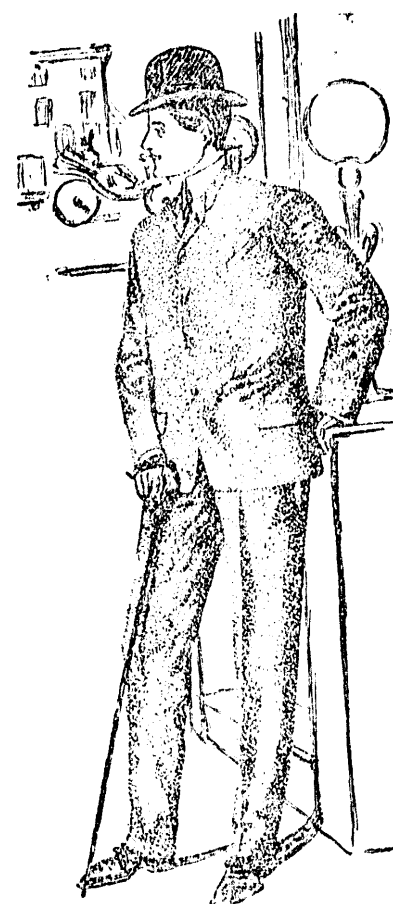

The funeral will be held at the M. E. church in Meredosia at 11:30 o'clock this morning.
